

THE #Fitz3D CHALLENGE

Making meaning: how creative can you be?

Dr Paola Ricciardi, Research Scientist, Fitzwilliam Museum

Fitzwilliam Museum

Username: FitzwilliamMuseum
The Fitzwilliam Museum was described by the Sounding Connections on Museums & Galleries in 1968 as "one of the greatest art collections of the nation and a monument of the first importance". It owes its foundation to Richard VII Viscount Fitzwilliam of Merrion who, in 1816, bequeathed to the University...

£2 SUPPORT ME

Private Message Website No of Objects: 6 3,473 Views 33 Likes 1 Follower Follow User

Objects Prints Followers Following Collections

Latest Popularity Most Liked

#Fitz3D CHALLENGE

- Game? Toast rack?
- Surveillance system?
- Automated Celebrity?
- What might these forms become?

Thanks to: Vicky Avery, Jo Dillon, Jo Vine, Helen Howard, Elsbeth Geldhof, George Doji, Michael Jones, Fitz Museum AA Techs, Miranda Stearn, Sophie Weeks, Dave Hurren, Dan Pett, Cambridge Humanities Research Grants, Arts and Humanities Impact Fund

'Awakening' by Jamie Hurren

'Tree Boy' by a young Museum Ambassador (video rendition by Dave Hurren, SoftCogs Ltd.)

3D model by Bridget Ayres,
3Dlirious

3D print made at MakeSpace, Cambridge

'Annunciation' by Jasmina Vuckovic

'Apparition of Madonna and Child' (left) and 'Polychromous' (right) by Michelle Law

'Slices of Time' by Kelly Briggs

Photo by Martin Bond

Photo by Martin Bond